Forecast for Saturday 30 Apr 2022

Weather: Clear skies at first and a fairly widespread frost in the valleys. Soon warming under the sunny skies this morning, although high cloud will spread in. Becoming cloudier this afternoon, although initially it will remain bright, but turning increasingly overcast by the evening. Late evening outbreaks of light rain arrive from the northwest.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 100%.

Low cloud and visibility: A few shallow fog patches in the valleys at first, these soon dispersing. All hills and mountains will be cloud free. Generally good visibilities are expected, although some distant hills will appear quite hazy.
